RESEARCH FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR UM UNDERGRADS

MISSOULA —

The Montana Integrative Learning Experience for Students program is accepting applications for funds available to University of Montana undergraduates during spring semester 2009.

The program provides funding for original research through seed grants, internships and honors fellowships with mentoring by nationally and internationally recognized faculty researchers. Applications can be submitted Dec. 3-17.

Stipends for spring honors fellowships are $2,000, and interns can earn up to $1,000 during the semester. Students also can apply for seed grants of up to $500 for activities related to initiating a research project.

The MILES program is funded by a grant from the Howard Hughes Medical Institute. It is run through the UM Office of Research and Educational Opportunities for Students, located in Health Sciences Building Room 106.
